OVERVIEW

SPANISH LANGUAGE ARTS RESOURCES

This list of Spanish Language Arts resources, K kindergarten to Grade 12 contains annotated resources that have been authorized for use in Alberta schools. Alberta Education selects and authorizes the best possible instructional materials for the implementation of approved programs of study. The resource authorization categories are student basic, student support or teaching, and the status is noted for each resource.

Student Basic learning resources are those student learning resources authorized by Alberta Education as the most appropriate for addressing the majority of outcomes of the course(s) or substantial components of the course(s); or the most appropriate for meeting general outcomes across two or more grade levels.

Student Support learning resources are those student learning resources authorized by Alberta Education to assist in addressing some of the outcomes of the course(s) or components of the course(s); or to assist in meeting the outcomes across two or more grade levels.

Teaching resources are those teaching resources identified as the best available resources to support the implementation of programs of study and courses; they may be teacher guides to accompany student resources or teacher professional resources. The authorized teaching guides are listed with the student resources.

The list of these resources is organized by authorized status: Basic Learning Resources, Support Learning Resources and Teaching Resources. The grade(s) for which the resource is authorized are noted.

Note:

Alberta Education strongly recommends that teachers read all selections in the student resources and all activities in the teacher guides prior to using them with students. Careful consideration should be given to the sensitivities of both the student audience and the community.

OVERVIEW OF PROGRAM OF STUDIES

The program of studies is divided into two sections:

- Language Arts
 - General Language Component
 - Specific Language Component
- Culture

These sections are designed to overlap in many areas. It is important that the sections be implemented in an integrated manner.

Language Arts

The Language Arts section of the program of studies is intended to reflect an integrated, interdependent approach to language learning within a bilingual programming context. Language Arts in a Spanish bilingual context encompasses both English language arts and Spanish language arts. Spanish language arts include a General Language Component and a Specific Language Component.

The Specific Language Component provides the detailed linguistic elements of Spanish, descriptors of language competence for each grade, and outcomes to support sociocultural/sociolinguistic and strategic learning.

Culture

The Culture section fosters the development of essential knowledge, skills and attitudes related to self, the Spanish language and culture, the community and the world. This section is intended to be integrated with language learning, as well as with the learnings related to other subject areas, and is an essential part of daily activities in Spanish bilingual programming.

GENERAL OUTCOMES

General outcomes are broad statements that form the basis of this program of studies. Each general outcome outlines the key learnings that each section of the program is designed to support. The general outcomes describe the common goals that all students in the Spanish Language Arts Kindergarten to Grade 3 learning sequence are expected to achieve.

Spanish bilingual programming is designed to promote all-round personal development by fostering social, emotional, moral, intellectual and creative growth. To support this growth and development, the Spanish Language Arts Kindergarten to Grade 3 program is built upon the following seven general outcomes.

Language Arts: General Language Component

General Outcome 1

Students will listen, speak, read, write, view and represent in Spanish to explore thoughts, ideas, feelings and experiences.

General Outcome 2

Students will listen, speak, read, write, view and represent in Spanish to comprehend and respond personally and critically to oral, print, visual and multimedia texts.

General Outcome 3

Students will listen, speak, read, write, view and represent in Spanish to manage ideas and information.

General Outcome 4

Students will listen, speak, read, write, view and represent in Spanish to enhance the clarity and artistry of communication.

General Outcome 5

Students will listen, speak, read, write, view and represent in Spanish to celebrate and build community.

Language Arts: Specific Language Component

General Outcome 6

Students will acquire Spanish to understand and appreciate languages, and use Spanish confidently and competently in a variety of situations for communication, personal satisfaction and further learning.

Culture

General Outcome 7

Students will explore, understand and appreciate the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world for personal growth and satisfaction and for participating in and contributing to our multicultural Canadian society and the world.

Annotation:

This Spanish resource presents thematic culture units in a series of four levels that consist of workbooks, a vocabulary and reading book as well as an answer-key booklet.

Comparisons between the students' culture and the Spanish culture are made in every unit, using various classroom activities and thoughtful cultural comparisons. The texts also further reading and vocabulary development.

The subject matter is interdisciplinary and includes a variety of subjects that will spark the interest of adolescents; e.g., tourism, science, history, ecology, sports, music. Many units integrate critical-thinking skills; e.g., posing mathematics and science problems to illustrate facts in the text.

The level of difficulty is specific, and workbooks and copy masters are marked with the number corresponding to the year of study (four years). The units for Level 1 are the least complex in terms of language, and the complexity increases to Unit 4 with more complex sentences, a more sophisticated vocabulary, and grammatical structures that include subjunctives and conditionals.

Each unit includes a prereading exercise, a level-specific reading, a variety of exercises, a written assignment, a vocabulary list, key words to facilitate an Internet search and a complete answer key. Some units have both a teacher's guide and model tests. Every exercise, including those that review grammar, contains additional information but continues the theme presented in the reading.

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

The resource offers a close examination of assessment in second language high school classrooms. Three case studies feature second language teachers using various assessment methods; e.g., the Integrated Performance Assessment Model, Performance Tasks and Backward Design. Each case study follows a teacher as she works through the process, from setting clear goals, giving directions and modelling, to giving immediate and helpful feedback to students on their performance.

Interviews with district assessment leaders and teachers convey the importance of identifying learning outcomes, designing engaging activities and providing specific and timely feedback to students. All are essential in building language proficiency in second language classrooms.

Demonstrations of teaching, learning and the assessment process are conducted in French, Spanish or English. Activities are student-centred and assessment-driven but are also interesting and fun. Comments from students reflect the success of these three case studies. They share how the teaching and learning activities motivated them to practise and improve throughout the course.

Annotation:

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

Communicating about Sports presents ideas and strategies, in Chinese, that teachers can use when teaching sports-related material to a class of Grade 6 second language students. Students work on various activities to practise using sports vocabulary; e.g., using a Venn diagram to compare what sports Chinese and Americans enjoy playing, interviewing a classmate about his or her sport-related likes and dislikes, role-playing. Students also practise writing Chinese characters in class, as homework and in an ongoing activity where they compose and send a letter to a pen pal in China.

In this resource, a teacher demonstrates her understanding of learner outcomes and how she incorporates them in her lessons. She uses total physical response (TPR) to involve students in acting out and saying sports vocabulary. She uses facial expressions and gestures to help students understand the terms. Small-group and large-group activities allow students opportunities to work with one or more of their classmates. Students comment on the importance of engaging activities that encouraged them to learn and practise the language.

Titles authorized in this series are Assessment Strategies, Communicating about Sports, Daily Routines, Exploring New Directions, Food Facts and Stories, Fruits of the Americas, Happy New Year!, Hearing Authentic Voices, Holidays and Seasons, Promoting Attractions of Japan, Routes to Culture, Sports in Action, Sports Stats and US and Italian Homes.

Annotation: This series is comprised of 36 books that can be used in progression. The front covers have colourful illustrations and the drawings in the [story] reader are black and white. These drawings may be used for prediction and inferences to help the student with reading comprehension. These readers are suited to introduce vocabulary phonetically and to develop reading fluency.
The teacher's guide is divided into four sections: develop phonemic awareness, connect sound-spelling, develop reading fluency, and develop writing skills. All of the sections depend on teacher-led activities.

Annotation:

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

In this resource, a teacher walks the viewer through a typical lesson with a Grade 5 Japanese class. The video is useful to any teacher instructing in a second language classroom. It provides practical ideas and strategies, e.g., total physical response (TPR), modeling, paired practice and student-led charades, for vocabulary instruction.

In the video, students engage in activities, such as creating a personal daily routine, using filmstrip boxes. The routine is then shared with a partner who presents the daily routine to the class. In another activity, a Venn diagram is used to compare Japanese and American culture.

The video makes reference to language applications and cultural comparisons that coincide with curricular objectives found in the language and culture programs of study. Student perspectives are also provided on the benefits of learning a second language.

Titles authorized in this series are Assessment Strategies, Communicating about Sports, Daily Routines, Exploring New Directions, Food Facts and Stories, Fruits of the Americas, Happy New Year!, Hearing Authentic Voices, Holidays and Seasons, Promoting Attractions of Japan, Routes to Culture, Sports in Action, Sports Stats and US and Italian Homes.

This resource is part of the De Canciones a Cuentos series (levels A, B and C). Each part of the series consists of a book of songs, four audiocassettes, a phonics practice book, 32 big rhyming cards, readers and a teacher's guide, and alphabet cards and chart. It is very complete with music, song, reading, writing and viewing. It is a phonics-based resource made to instill independent literacy behaviors. To accomplish this, students will hear and sing songs which will help them in the process of association, awareness, and memorization of syllables, words and sentences in a given context. Then they will have the opportunity to write their own storybooks applying what they have learned. This program provides Assessment Guidelines to inform about the placement, instruction and grading of students.

Comments:

- It promotes a continuous evaluation as the optimum form of assessment.

This resource demonstrates the teaching of Chinese in a multilevel class (Levels 2, 3 and 4), using a theme-based approach. In the video, the teacher leads students in an exploration of directions, both literally and metaphorically.

First, Level 2 and 3 students work in small groups to learn how to get to a Chinese restaurant. They use simple maps they have created to facilitate questions and answers, including finding directions and providing descriptions of neighbourhood buildings and services.

At the same time, Level 4 students in the class practise reciting two poems from the Chinese literature curriculum. The video shows how these students interact with each other in their discussions about various interpretations of the poems.

Student groups at each level demonstrate their product and the teacher provides constructive comments.

This video shows a second-year Japanese classroom in a senior high school. The video focuses on the importance of being an active learner and incorporating a student-centred approach to learning a second language. The teacher acts as a facilitator and guides students through their learning about the Japanese language and culture by engaging them in a common topic; i.e., celebrating New Year's Day in Japan.

The teacher engages students in active learning and accommodates different learning styles by creating a learning environment in which the class is divided into two groups. One group focuses on reading and writing about activities that happen in Japan on New Year's Day; e.g., special foods and exchanging gifts (money). The second group participates in authentic New Year's Day activities; e.g., singing songs, making cards and playing games. Both groups then switch activities. At the end of the video, the instructor gives students an opportunity to articulate what they have learned, in English, to assess their understanding of concepts learned during the lesson.

The video also offers a cross-cultural analysis of how New Year's Day is celebrated in different cultures around the world. This resource supports many of the curricular objectives found in the language and culture programs of study and has a good instructional design.

Titles authorized in this series are Assessment Strategies, Communicating about Sports, Daily Routines, Exploring New Directions, Food Facts and Stories, Fruits of the Americas, Happy New Year!, Hearing Authentic Voices, Holidays and Seasons, Promoting Attractions of Japan, Routes to Culture, Sports in Action, Sports Stats and US and Italian Homes.

Comments:

- The context of the film takes place at a senior high school level; however, the methodology of teaching a second language and the suggested activities can be implemented at any grade.

This series of 10 episodes features Latin Americans living in Canada. The presentation is in Spanish, with optional subtitles available in English, French and Spanish. A host interviews immigrants from various Latin American countries, such as Colombia, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Peru, Mexico, Chile and Ecuador. Themes include aspects of daily life, such as homes, automobiles and playground activities. Information about various countries is shown using maps, history, photographs, art and music. The pace of the video is suitable for beginning and intermediate Spanish language learners.

Each DVD is accompanied by a workbook written in Spanish that includes activities and exercises, vocabulary, grammar charts and Spanish transcripts of the videos. Activities in the workbooks include short answer, long answer, fill in the blank and matching. Some activities review concrete information while others address personal responses and emotions and encourage the sharing of responses. Activities can be done during or after the viewing of the video. The answer key includes answers to concrete questions only and is separate from the workbook.

Comments:

- Topics are presented in a suitable and appropriate manner. Some topics address a historical aspect of particular countries, including sensitive issues such as corruption, political turmoil and refugee status (i.e., Episode 1 – Colombia).
- Indigenous people are briefly shown in a photograph and are dressed in their native style of dress or are shown nude (i.e., Episode 1 – Peru). The presentation of the information and visual aid does not subtract from the instructional purpose of the DVDs.

This video depicts a grade 3 and 4 German classroom where the teacher does not have a homeroom. She demonstrates a creative way to use teaching materials that allows her to have all materials on a cart. The lesson presented on the video combines the topics of seasons and holidays, e.g., Fasching, Halloween, to reinforce basic reading skills, build cultural knowledge and introduce more abstract thinking. The teacher begins and concludes the lesson by having students sing theme-related songs to establish the learning environment and to reinforce their learning. During the lesson, she uses visuals, e.g., student-made month and season clocks, sentence strips, a Venn diagram, to engage students in the active learning of German. She groups students in a circle or in pairs to allow them to participate and practise German in meaningful ways.

This well-known classic picture book is translated from English. The simple colorful illustrations serve to help students better understand the text. This book could be used to introduce students to the past tense. As the text is written entirely in past tense, students will build confidence and competence in this area. The picture book genre helps students to better comprehend and respond personally to the literary text.

The society portrayed is of a previous era and different than current Canadian norms. The references are relevant for the times portrayed in the resource. Jorge is depicted smoking a pipe as part of his exploration and one of his explorations involves him being put in jail. These references could lead to a positive discussion if students are asked to critically examine the references.

This resource is an integrated Spanish reading and language arts series. Instructions in the lenguaje textbook and the escritura workbook are written in Spanish and are clear and easy to follow independently. In the lenguaje textbook, the students are exposed to various types of text, grammar, vocabulary, verbal reasoning and the writing process. In the escritura workbook, students are provided with exercises to further expand their grammar, vocabulary and verbal reasoning.

The teacher's guide is in both English and Spanish and provides ideas and questions to further explore topics. There are 12 units divided into four sections: Part 1 consists of the unit theme; Part 2 is reading and vocabulary; Part 3 is grammar, spelling and punctuation; and Part 4 is word study and writing. A four-step lesson plan is included within each unit.

The blackline masters include formal assessment that can be administered at the end of each unit.

This resource is an integrated Spanish reading and language arts series. Each unit includes seven components: theme, reading texts (i.e., nonfiction, fiction), vocabulary, grammar, spelling and punctuation, word study and writing/review. Within these seven components, students are able to expand on their previous knowledge of familiar topics through a variety of discussions and writing activities.

The Lenguaje textbook has a variety of text forms in each unit, including fiction and nonfiction. Graphic organizers are used as a tool to help organize ideas and respond to text. All instructions are in Spanish and allow for independent work. The text is user-friendly and age appropriate. Topics are relevant and lend themselves to further exploration.

The Escritura workbook covers some linguistic elements of the Grade 8 program of studies. All instructions are in Spanish and allow students to practise further the grammar components studied in the textbook.

Each lesson in the teacher's guide provides student objectives, materials and pacing suggestions. The lessons are composed of four parts: explore, teach, apply and close. All lesson plans are provided in English and Spanish and are easy to follow.

The blackline master resource provides a variety of graphic organizers for each of the main reading selections in a unit. These organizers focus on specific reading comprehension skills, including summarizing, comparing and contrasting, identifying the main idea, and cause and effect. The second part includes unit evaluations that assess each component. Questions include fill in the blanks, written and matching.

Comments:

- This resource has a limited selection of activities that cover multiple learning strategies. It does not cover all grammatical or cultural components.

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

This video shows an advanced-level Japanese classroom in a senior high school setting. The video reinforces the importance of providing students with a purpose when learning in a second language classroom. It also addresses the importance of actively engaging students to make their learning meaningful and enjoyable.

The instructor assesses the students' ability to use the Japanese language and to learn about Japanese culture by engaging them in a unit of study that focuses on Japan as a tourist attraction. Students are asked to first identify a geographical region in Japan and landmarks found in that region. They then play a game related to the geographical areas and their landmarks. Students are also asked to reflect on what they like about a particular region, in written form. They then connect the information and create a travel brochure to promote Japan. The culminating activity is the creation of a promotional video that promotes travel in Japan.

The instructor reinforces proficiency in the language by practising vocabulary and sentence structure through interactive activities that engage students. Students are given the opportunity to reflect upon the importance of learning a second language in short clips during the video.

This resource addresses many of the curricular outcomes in the language and culture programs of study. This resource shows how making learning meaningful and enjoyable is beneficial for the student.

Titles authorized in this series are Assessment Strategies, Communicating about Sports, Daily Routines, Exploring New Directions, Food Facts and Stories, Fruits of the Americas, Happy New Year!, Hearing Authentic Voices, Holidays and Seasons, Promoting Attractions of Japan, Routes to Culture, Sports in Action, Sports Stats and US and Italian Homes.

Comments:

- The context of the film takes place at a senior high school level; however, the methodology of teaching a second language and the suggested activities can be implemented in grades 4 through 12.

This program offers a multigenre collection of 24 literature titles that are organized into two distinct sets: silver for the lower levels (i.e., grades 1 to 3) and gold for the higher levels (i.e., grades 4 to 6). Each set contains 12 literature titles that are divided into six units or series: art, biography, Hispanic lands, language, poetry and theatre.

The Art Series includes two titles that help students develop an appreciation for art through viewing and reading activities. These books have large glossy pictures of a variety of art by Spanish and Latin American artists. There are also two student journals that allow students to complete additional reading and drawing activities, based on each title. These journals are also part of an informal assessment for each unit.

The Hispanic Lands Cultural Series includes two titles that help students learn about the geography and history of Latin America. The books reflect on historical events as a way to help students learn about the past and its role in shaping the present and future. This series does not include student journals.

The Language Series includes two titles that help students learn about literary story elements, including character, setting and plot. These stories also come in various writing forms and uses of language. This series does not include a student journal.

The Biography Series includes two titles where students learn about the life work and accomplishments of well-known Hispanics. There are two journals that allow students to apply concepts learned in the readings and build language skills. These journals are also part of an informal assessment for each unit.

The Poetry Series includes two titles that provide an anthology of contemporary and traditional Hispanic poems that help students appreciate, memorize, recite and create poetry. There are two journals, part of an informal assessment for each unit, that allow students to apply concepts learned in the readings and build language skills.

The Theatre Series includes two titles that include a variety of plays where students work together to read scripts, memorize lines and learn various theatrical techniques. These help students learn oral expression, increase linguistic abilities and build confidence. This series does not include a student journal.

Each set (i.e., gold and silver) offers a teacher's guide. The teacher's guide provides 11 lessons for each title in the series. It includes the explore, teach, apply, reflect and close components of a lesson plan as well as assessment activities. The guide also includes writing prompts and other cross-curricular connections as extensions for each lesson as well as the objectives, essential skills and a materials checklist.

The activity and assessment book provides activity sheets for each lesson, which are organized into sections called Connection to English Language, Home Connection and Content-specific Assessment. Some of the sheets are in English but most are entirely Spanish. The activity and assessment book also includes vocabulary graphic organizers for language development, assessment forms for both teacher and student use, and theatre management sheets to help plan and organize plays. This book is used for both silver and gold sets.

The teacher training video DVD explains the structure of the program and how the components work together. It includes model lessons performed by actual teachers in a classroom environment and highlights different uses for each of the series/genres in the classroom. This video is included in the program package but is not necessary to understand how the program works.

This series of three books and a teacher's guide extensively explores the Spanish language and culture of the Caribbean, Central America and northern South America. (The rest of this series addresses other Spanish-speaking regions.)

The teacher's guide provides at-a-glance charts and comprehensive structure, with each unit subdivided into the following categories: literature, vocabulary, grammar, verbal reasoning, writing structure, oral expression, written expression and expository text. Each of these components is further developed for teaching and student learning purposes.

The student book, Lenguaje y comunicación 7, is user-friendly and includes a chart that describes the outcome measures for each chapter and defines the literary genres used. The format of each chapter incorporates literature and concept definitions as well as exercises. Each chapter begins with an example of a different literary genre, followed by comprehension activities, vocabulary exercises, specific grammatical outcomes with exercises, verbal reasoning, development to complement oral fluency, writing structure with mini lessons and exercises, and samples of expository text to develop learning strategies.

The student book, Lectura y comunicación 7, is a compilation of Spanish-speaking writers from the countries mentioned above that depicts a variety of genres and includes accompanying illustrations and comprehension exercises. A useful feature for students is the incorporation of definitions for words that are colloquial or at a higher level on the immediate page. A biography of each author is included.

The student book, Escriptura y comunicación 7, is an exercise book that reinforces language skills with vocabulary, grammar and spelling practice activities. There are a variety of high interest activities, such as play on words, puzzles, labelling, graphic organizers and cartoons.

Comments:

- This extensive material is adaptable to accommodate students with diverse abilities, including native speakers and bilingual students. The resource contains an extensive amount and variety of levels. As a result, teachers will want to adapt and select applications for the material. Teachers should select appropriate text and activities to match the students' level of competency.
- It is highly recommended that the teacher take the time to use the guide as it is intended to support the purpose and interrelated function of the various students' books.
- Grammatical and linguistic elements are often incorporated in the text, but some are not covered in the grammatical exercises; the teacher will need to be aware of these gaps. It is recommended that the teacher use additional resources for the linguistic elements.
- Teachers will want to broaden the scope of Spanish-speaking countries so that students become aware of all Spanish-speaking countries.

Annotation:

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

This video presents instructional strategies to teach German at the high school level. Students are guided through graduated activities, including a total physical response (TPR) vocabulary review of the body and a grammar segment on the verb gefallen (Eng. please). A listening component is incorporated in the lesson where students listen to statements related to sports. They are asked to listen and draw the message. This allows students to focus on listening comprehension.

The teacher uses total physical response storytelling (TPRS) to have students act out a story while she reads it. A student retells the story while his or her classmates act it out again. The students are then asked to write the story individually and share what they have written. The teacher writes the stories on the blackboard. This allows students to see the words in written form and self-check their own spelling.

The teacher uses a list of sports events and the number of medals that Germany received in the 2002 Winter Olympics to introduce sports vocabulary. To conclude the lesson, and as a homework assignment, students are asked to create their own story, using the sports vocabulary.

Titles authorized in this series are Assessment Strategies, Communicating about Sports, Daily Routines, Exploring New Directions, Food Facts and Stories, Fruits of the Americas, Happy New Year!, Hearing Authentic Voices, Holidays and Seasons, Promoting Attractions of Japan, Routes to Culture, Sports in Action, Sports Stats and US and Italian Homes.

This video series offers numerous strategies and activities that teachers can use when teaching second languages. The narrations and discussions are in English while the demonstrations are in various languages. The strategies can be adapted to other second language teaching activities.

This video presents various strategies to teach German in a Grade 5 class where students have been studying German for four years. As the teacher does not have a homeroom, she uses all school facilities; e.g., the library and the gymnasium. In the demonstrations, she combines German language activities with mathematics concepts. Using sports as the theme, she models "like to play" and "do not like to play". Students use these sentence segments to complete a chart independently and share their work with the class. The teacher models how to ask the class whether they like certain familiar sports. She invites students to be the surveyors and count and tally the results of this query, in German.

The teacher uses copies of German sports magazines to encourage students to identify and interpret favourite sports played by young people in Germany. Using sample sentences, students work in pairs to describe, in complete sentences, the clothing worn by athletes; e.g., colours and types of clothing.

As a homework assignment, students are asked to write a letter to the teacher stating their hobbies or sports they like and do not like. This activity provides students with an opportunity to bring together what they have learned and produce a written text.

This comprehensive Spanish reading/language arts program provides variety in content and skill level for grades K, 1 and 2. It consists of five audiocassettes, 40 readers, nine student books and 13 practice books. There are 12 thematic student phonics practice books to help students develop the language and to expand their experience with reality, moving from the individual, to the family and home, through the neighbourhood and the community, into the global community. They include hands-on activities to link school with the family. The phonics practice readers are colourful and fun. The readers vary in language skill levels and are appealing, colourful and engaging. Many stories appear on accompanying audiocassettes. The series also includes 10 teacher's guides that contain lesson plans, instructions, strategies, activity cards, classroom management ideas, assessment and hints for many activities.

Comments:

- The teacher should make use of resources found in Cantos y Fiestas to emphasize that, in different countries, things may be referenced in different ways; i.e., lexical variations. For example, in English, we have truck and lorry, elevator and lift, or fire truck and fire engine.

This resource consists of an anthology of 16 softcover readers produced by National Geographic. The readers contain colourful, detailed pictures that describe people, places and animals. There are two to three lines of text for each double-page spread.

Comments:

- This resource does not strongly contribute to the cultural component of the program of studies.
- The teacher should plan and organize this material, since it lacks teacher guidance, to get the most out of the readers. The inclusion of other forms of media, e.g., audio, would be a very positive addition.

This resource is part of a collection of 15 picture books that contain colourful illustrations. The strong association between the pictures and text will help students understand the content. Some books are instructional, while others are part of a series. Two books depict elements of Spanish-speaking cultures, while several others represent a range of cultures from African to American. A number of the books are children's favourites, translated from English. The conceptual level of the books varies, as does the level of Spanish. The lines of text vary from two to three lines per page to half a page of text.
